

Part 1: Let's Talk About Coffee or Tea

What do you drink more?

From dusk till dawn I guzzle coffee, and I've been doing that since I first discovered it on an expedition to Ethiopia 10 years ago. I used to sip on tea when I was a teenager, but my introduction to coffee from the Ethiopian hills of Sidamo converted my drinking habit.

Which do you usually serve your guests, coffee or tea?

If I have a visitor that I'm unfamiliar with, of course I'd ask which they prefer. Normally, unless requested otherwise, I offer a cup of joe because I'm aware that the company I keep appreciates the taste and aroma of coffee beans.

Do you prefer different morning and evening beverages?

'As I stated earlier, I drink coffee sun up to sun down, so my drink selection does not change over the course of a day. If it is ever determined that coffee is overwhelmingly unhealthy for consumption, I'd likely change this habit.
